Child Bereavement UK – Runcorn

Offers free support and information to bereaved children, young people (aged 0 - 25) and their families within our locality and surrounding areas.

- Face to face support sessions for children, young people and their families, either as a family group or individually.
- Family groups which allow bereaved families to get together. Children aged 4 - 12 can meet other bereaved children with their adult carers and express their feelings through play and creative activities in facilitated groups.
- Group sessions for young people which encourage young people aged 11 - 25 to meet up and work together in a supportive environment on creative projects about what they think, in their experience, helps young people who are grieving.
- Telephone support sessions. If your baby or child has died, we can provide a series of confidential booked telephone support sessions with a qualified counsellor for you as an individual or as a couple.
- Support for professionals who are working with bereaved children, young people and their families.
